WOMEN SHOT One Killed: One Fatally Injured

Jack Dillard, a negro between thirty and thirty-five years old, who lived on his mother's farm on Pine creek, near the Rucker bridge, killed his sister-in-law, Linnie Watkins, and fatally shot his wife, at 9:30 o'clock last night, at a picnic at the Booker schoolhouse, two miles north of Novice. He and his wife were separated and she was living with her father, Mingo Ellis. He went to the picnic drunk and got into a quarrel with his wife and shot her in the abdomen with a pistol. A crowd rushed and tried to take the pistol away from him, but before they could disarm him he shot his sister-in-law, killing her instantly.

The negroes finally succeeded in taking the pistol from him, but gave it back to him later and he left the grounds. Some of the darkies went to the home of Hugh Jones at Novice, the local deputy sheriff, and informed him and he went to the home of Dillard's mother and found him there. He still had the pistol and was preparing to leave. He did not offer any resistance, and when arrested admitted the shooting. He claimed that the two women and their brother all jumped on him during the fight.

Mr. Jones reached Paris with the prisoner a little before midnight and lodged him in jail. He stated that the negro's wife was still alive when he left, but that it was thought she would die.

Price Hog At Work

Chicago, June 27.—Captain Morrow, chief aeronautic officer in charge of this district, expressed the opinion today that unless land owners near Chicago can agree on a price for the proposed addition to the officers' aero reserve flying field at Ashburn, a suburb, the camp will be transferred to Rantoul, Ill., near Urbana.

The price of land near the Ashburn field suddenly went up when the War Department proposed to enlarge it.

A camp for 500 men is now under construction at Rantoul.

Real Gun Coming For Paris Battery

There will be a real 3-inch gun in Paris in a few days, the War Department having promised to send Capt. Ward one to let the Paris men see the instrument with which they will work when the Paris Battery goes into service.

Recruiting quarters at Chamber of Commerce were busy yesterday and while only four men were finally examined and passed quite a number of others made application and today will see a number enrolled.

Paris men do not seem to realize the necessity for quick action in this matter, or the advantage of going into the army as a home company rather than taking chances on the draft. The battery must be completed by July 5 and eight days more remain to secure the men yet needed.

The artillery is the choice branch of the service. The work is usually done on high ground where camp conditions are best and there is a variety to it that other branches do not offer.

It is practically certain that the men called under the selective draft will be assigned to the infantry, as that branch of the service is most in need of men just now. Men will find it much better to go now into the artillery and to go with the Paris company, officered by their friends and in whose ranks there will be men they know and with whom they can fraternize.

Following is the enrollment up to last night—

HERE'S FRIEND VILLA

CUTTING UP AGAIN

El Paso, June 27.—Francisco Villa was at Villa Ahumada, 85 miles south of Juarez, late today with a force of 1500 men and marching toward Juarez, according to information received by government agents here tonight.

Train service between Juarez and Chihuahua City has been suspended because of Villa's activity. Residents of Juarez fear that he will again attempt to capture the town.

Senate Committee Knocks Out Beer

Washington, June 27.—Beer was given a knockout blow by the Senate Agricultural Committee today.

After a subcommittee had left it up to the President for decision as to its life or death, the full committee today killed it, 8 to 7, in considering the food bill.

The full committee then adopted the House "bone dry" amendment to the bill, adding a provision that will enable the President to spare production of wines, if deemed necessary, for conservation of perishable foodstuffs. The vote was 9 to 7.

The effect of this action, if approved by the Senate, will be to create absolute prohibition of beer and spirits manufacture during the war in this country.

The President will have the power to commandeer all spirits in bond, thus eliminating that beverage entirely, if he desires.

Wines alone, under provisions agreed to by the committee, could be indulged in by the American people to quench a thirst for alcoholic stimulant.

However, as one committeeman told a group of perspiring beer lobbyists, "there is a long legislative road to travel before the measure becomes a law."

Von Tirpitz Seriously Ill

Paris, June 27.—Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, Germany's apostle of sea ruthlessness, is critically ill of diabetes at a Black Forest resort in Switzerland, according to word received here today.

The former German Naval Minister resigned in March, 1916, on account of ill health.

Artillery Doing Work On The French Front

American troops have succeeded in crossing the barred territory of the German submarines safely and landed two contingents of American fighting forces in France, men of the regular United States army.

The troops, the first to reach the war area, were greeted enthusiastically on their unexpected arrival by the townspeople at the port of arrival. The men are in fine fettle and will be sent to their training camp whence they may proceed to a point near the battle front to remain until they are sent against the fighting line.

Again operations along the western front in France are being carried out mainly by the artillery. Infantry action, what little there is of it, is mainly by patrol parties and only small units are attacked. One of these minor attacks by the Canadians resulted in the capture of an additional trench astride the Lens-Arras road, but in another attempt to bite further into Lens they were repulsed, according to the German war office.

In the Asiago plateau zone of the Austro-Italian front Austrian artillery shattered the positions recently taken by the Italians and occupied by them. The fighting was on Monte Ortigara and the Austrians assert that they captured more than 1800 prisoners. The Rome war office in admitting the withdrawal of the Italians says the destroyed positions were no longer a shelter to the Italians from the murderous fire of the Austrian artillery.

There is little fighting between the Russians and Austro-Germans on the eastern front, particularly in Galicia.

Mines or Teutonic allies' subs are responsible for the sinking last week of 21 British vessels of 1600 tons each and over and seven under that size, according to the weekly report of the British admiralty.

Russian Socialists Jabber For Peace

Petrograd, June 27.—The Congress of Workmen and Soldiers today decided to send a delegation of six members shortly to Stockholm, England and France for the purpose of urging a peace conference at an early date, on the basis of the aims announced by the workmen and soldiers.

Probably this is in line with the conference called at Stockholm a number of weeks ago by the Russians, to which French Socialists gave their acceptance. It is distinct and separate from the German-controlled "Socialist peace conference," agitated for Stockholm.

TROOPS LAND On French Soil Ready To Fight

A French Seaport, June 27.—The second contingent of American troops arrived and disembarked this morning.

The troops landed amid the frantic cheers of the people, who had gathered for hours before in anticipation of duplicating yesterday's surprise.

Enthusiasm rose to fever pitch when it was learned that transports and convoys had successfully passed the submarine zone. The port was speedily beflagged in honor of the occasion.

WILL GO INTO CAMP NEAR PORT.

All the troops now arrived were transferred today to a camp not far distant from this point, where Major General William L. Sibert is installed. Thence they probably will go soon to a point near the front. All the troops are in excellent shape, enthusiastic over the successful trip and their reception, and eager for action.

Major General Pershing, the American commander, is expected tomorrow.

The harbor is dotted with convoys. The streets are filled with soldiers in khaki and with bluejackets. Great numbers of trucks are transporting immense supplies to the camp in which the troops are concentrating.

WILL GO TO BATTLE FRONT WITH SHORT PREPARATION.

Washington, June 27.—The epochal landing of American troops in France cannot be fully discussed at this time for obvious reasons concerning the safety of other contingents.

It is entirely permissible to say that they are part of the force which will be under command of Major General Pershing and for whose arrival the general and his staff have been arranging ever since they landed on the other side. The American troops will be an entirely independent command just as are the British troops, working, of course, with the French at the head of operations as they are on French soil.

When the troops have had their period of preparation behind the lines they will take a place on the battle front, to be arranged by General Pershing, in consultation with the other military chiefs there, and probably will very soon be carrying the Stars and Stripes in the assaults which steadily are driving the Germans out of France and Belgium.

All the troops under General Pershing's command are regulars, and comprise the division which President Wilson directed to proceed to France "at the earliest possible time." Information of what other troop movements may be made is surrounded by censorship to insure, so far as possible, a safe voyage through the submarine zone.

It is not permissible to say what precautions were taken to get the American troop ships past the waiting German submarines but there is no doubt that the precautions were most carefully worked out because it is generally believed that some time ago most of the German submarine fleet was withdrawn from its attacks on commercial shipping to make it ready to ambush the American troop ships in force.

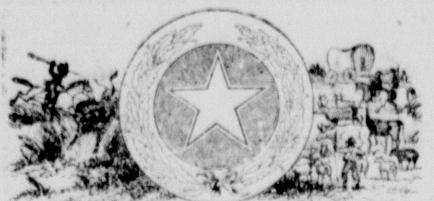

The successful landing, while a source of gratification to officials here, viewed from the point of being a military operation, is regarded with added significance for its moral effect in Germany, if it is permitted to become known there.

The reference in the cable dispatches to a duplication of "yesterday's surprise," intimating that there was also a landing yesterday, passes without comment here, but obviously discloses a landing of a contingent not recorded in yesterday's dispatches.

Farmers To Meet Next Saturday

Last Saturday morning the farmers, or at least a few of them, held a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce that was so satisfactory to them as a conference where their views and their needs were registered to the organized business men of Paris, that they decided then and there that they would meet every Saturday morning at the Chamber of Commerce until they had established a mutual understanding that would be of benefit to both.

Next Saturday morning farmers who have things to sell, and farmers or town people who want to buy things off the farm will meet at the Chamber of Commerce and if the same degree of success attends this meeting as was experienced at the first meeting, these meetings will develop a better feeling between the town man and the farmer, and each will profit by the association. Let as many as possible attend this meeting next Saturday morning at the Chamber of Commerce, at 10:30 o'clock.

BULGARIA AVERSE TO BREAKING WITH U. S. BUT INFLUENCES ARE AT WORK

Copenhagen, June 27.—Although Bulgaria is opposed to breaking off relations with the United States, the fear is expressed, according to information reaching here, that Premier Radoslavoff may have been compelled to purchase concessions, for which he went to Berlin, by a sacrifice of American relations as part payment. The influences against a break with the United States are of a twin nature, one-half of a sentimental nature, based on influence of the American Roberts College education upon many prominent men of old and new Bulgaria, and upon the respect for the far away republic with no axe to grind in Bulgaria; one half, wholly practical, inspired by the belief that capital from the same republic may after the war prove advantageous to the development of Bulgaria without risking economic existence.

The only circumstances which would lead to native Bulgarian sentiment for a rupture with the United States would be, according to information received by the Associated Press correspondent, the appearance of American troops at Saloniki—a possibility which some influence in Bulgaria apparently has some interest in pointing out to the Bulgarian mind. Bulgaria having got in possession of all advantages which are included in the present stage of its ambitions, Macedonia and Dobrudja, and finding the burden of running even a minor power share of the world war a growing menace to its financial future is a strong advocate of the peace movement.

Bulgarians apparently are firmly loyal to their Teutonic allies for the period of the war. They say they are open to no overtures to abandon them during the struggle, though willing to use their influence against movement for a so-called Hindenburg or German peace. There is, however, considerable surface grumbling against the Germans based on the belief that the Kaiser's government is exploiting them unfairly in buying up the country's products which are needed at home, denying them compensatory articles, such as salt and manufactures which they urgently need, driving a harder bargain for subsidies than with the Turks and taking too much military glory.

Bulgaria will furnish no troops for the general prosecution of the war on fronts other than Bulgarian.

BONE DRY FOOD BILL DEBATED BY SENATORS

Washington, June 27.—The senate agriculture committee today gave consideration to its sub-committee's draft of the food control bill, which in its present form puts up to President Wilson the question of deciding whether the nation shall be "bone dry" during the war.

Prospects were that the committee would speedily report the measure to the senate without important modification.

Both advocates and former opponents today predicted its passage in the senate by Saturday.

The house prohibition section absolutely forbade the manufacture of foodstuffs into liquor. The new draft prohibits during the war the manufacture of all alcoholic beverages and empowers the president to commandeer existing supplies of distilled spirits but would authorize him in his discretion to permit manufacture of malt, fermented and vinous beverages.

New sections also give to the president the right to place under government control iron, steel, fuel and many other products.

HANDKERCHIEFS HELP JUVENILE WORKER

Chicago, June 27.—Young girls brought into the juvenile court hereafter are to be supplied with clean handkerchiefs at the expense of the county. Miss Mary Bartelme, assistant judge of the court, who hears the cases, explaining why it is necessary to furnish such articles, said: "When a little girl has no handkerchief to weep into she becomes self conscious. Her mind is on herself and I can't keep her attention. The effect of a new clean handkerchief is wonderful."

WATER NOTICE

I am requested by the city council to announce that the water in the city lake is getting low; and also that it is highly probable that in a comparatively near future our deep wells will constitute our sole source of supply. This announcement will be received with genuine regret by many who do not like the well water. Just how soon the change must be made will depend somewhat upon the degree of prudence our people manifest in the use of water.

All are respectfully urged to refrain waste and even the unnecessary use of water. By practicing a rigid system of economy it may be possible to go through the entire dry season without resorting to the use of the well water.

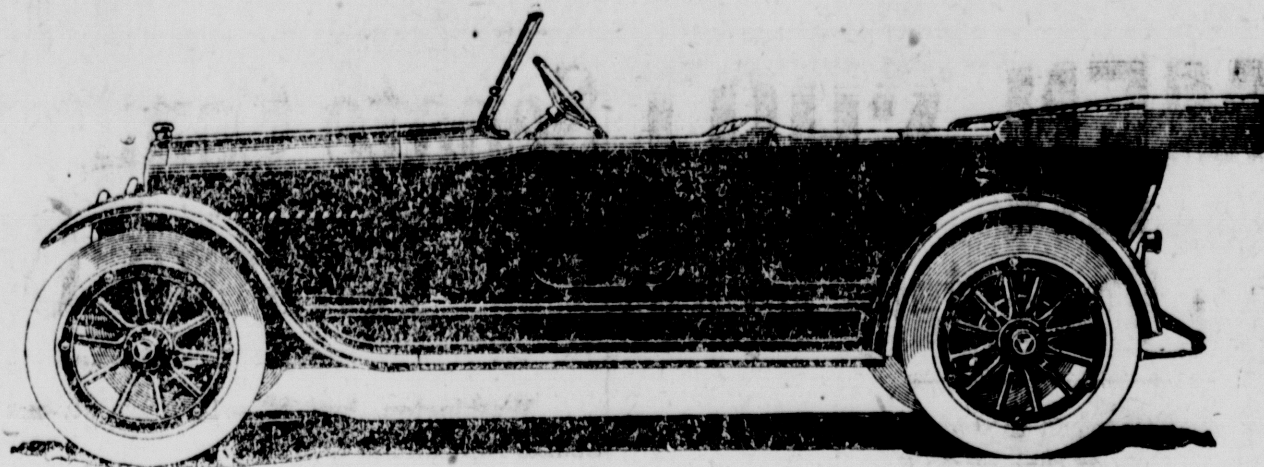

Respectfully,
Ed H. McCuiston, Mayor.

Hudson Super-Six--The Dynamic

HOLDS ALL WORTH-WHILE RECORDS

Former Types No Longer Adequate

Almost from the time the first car showed ability to get started even on low gear, automobiles have been described as being "lively," "full of pep," having "spunk," etc.

These are merely figures of speech and are comparative according to the performance of the cars of their time.

What was remarkable ONCE is no longer adequate.

The "one lung" of an earlier day was regarded with compassion when the "lively" two-cylinder was new.

So what was once described as "wonderful" can not now even be considered for sake of comparison.

Still the words do not change. Only definite records of performance can make real impressions. We claim a performance for the Hudson Super-Six not compared by class, not with cars of its own price range, not with sixes, but with all cars, regardless of price, or number of cylinders.

Consider Acceleration

The Super-Six will accelerate from all speeds up to 60 miles an hour. No matter at what speed up to 60 miles an hour there is still RESERVE—more power—the capacity to INSTANTLY increase the speed.

This means Safety and Ease of Driving.

You are rolling along at 30-40, or if you like that kind of driving—50 miles an hour.

A slow-moving team is turning into the road just ahead.

You must either beat him to it or take his dust until you find a favorable place for passing.

Step on the accelerator and that DYNAMIC Super-Six JUMPS.

In a city block it is capable of going from 5 to 40 miles an hour. It can get from standing start to 30 miles an hour in less time than the average car can be brought to a stop from a speed of 30 miles an hour.

There Are Fast Cars That Are Sluggish

There are cars that, once you get them rolling, go along faster than any average man wants to ride.

But they are slow to get started.

They are like a freight train.

But with the Super-Six you can cross the street at the policeman's signal, at 5 miles an hour, safely and silently glide past the slow-moving truck, the hesitating street car and the car that, before the advent of the Super-Six, could have been called—lively—jumping up to 40 if need be, and, ahead of all traffic, drop down to 6 miles as you go over the next crossing.

SUSTAINING FUND TO BE COMPLETED

The Finance Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of laying plans for the completion of the Sustaining Fund for this year, and appointed a committee consisting of Tom Scott, chairman, C. E. Weber, E. H. McGlasson, A. Caddell and W. B. Connor to call on the citizens of Paris who have not subscribed to this fund.

When the committee met at the first of the year, and made a budget of expense, a letter was addressed to the citizens which met with ready responses to the extent of two-thirds of the amount asked for by the Finance Committee.

The budget was made to cover the expense for a normal year of activity, and since that time the Chamber of Commerce has been called to conduct a most extensive Agriculture and Food Conservation Campaign, a Road Campaign, Patriotic celebrations and parades assisting in the Liberty Loan and Red Cross campaign, equipping and improving the military drill ground, and now financing the organization of the Paris Battery, that the Lamar county boys might serve their country as a unit, instead of enlisting among strangers.

The committee appointed at the meeting yesterday will urge upon the citizenship the need of finances to meet the unexpected expense of this exceptional year. This is a work that must go on and the cost of same will be much lighter when distributed than to allow a few of the most patriotic citizens to bear the burden.

AMERICAN FLYER PAYS TRIBUTE TO GERMANS

Chicago, June 27.—Aviators in France are meticulous in keeping immaculate their flying attire. It was said today by L. D. Hilly, who returned to Chicago after more than two years in the Lafayette Flying Corps.

"The importance of cleanliness as a means of maintaining morale is appreciated," he said. "Unfortunately the soldiers in the trenches are unable to keep themselves spick and span but the aviators change their collars daily and shave themselves regularly."

Hilly paid a tribute to the valor of the enemy airmen:

"German aviators seem to know no fear," he declared. "There is mutual respect for the other side."

GUARD COURT AS ANARCHISTS ARE SENT TO TRIAL

New York, June 27.—A number of secret service men today were assigned to guard the courtroom at the trial of Alexander Berkman, editor of The Blast, and Emma Goldman, in the United States district court. Both were indicted recently for conspiracy to obstruct the operation of the selective draft law and are out under $20,000 cash bail each. The courtroom was ordered guarded following the receipt of threatening letters by Julius M. Mayor, United States district judge who will try the case, and Harold A. Content, an assistant United States district attorney.

LATIN-AMERICA TO DECIDE HER STAND IN WAR

Mexico City, June 27.—A Latin-American diplomat who is one of the ministers to Mexico, said last night that all Latin-American countries except Cuba and Panama had accepted the invitation of Argentina for a congress of Latin-American nations at Buenos Aires at which the stand of the Latin-American countries in the world conflict will be determined and how best peace can be brought about.

The diplomat said that the invitation from Argentina was presented about a month ago. The time for holding the congress, he said, was unfixed, but urgent efforts are being made to hold it in the immediate future.

TWO MORE NORSE SHIPS ARE SUNK

London, June 27.—A Central News dispatch from Copenhagen says the Norwegian steamer King Haakon has been sunk and that only six of her crew were saved.

The Norwegian steamship Maggie, 1,118 tons gross, has been sunk in the Atlantic. The crew was saved.

PROTEST BY GERMANY ON EXAMINATION OF SUSPECT'S LUGGAGE

London, June 27.—Reports received here from Norway say that the German legation at Christiania formally protested against the breaking of the German official seals on the baggage of Aron Rautenfels, a German who is among those arrested in connection to blow up seized ships. The legation demanded the surrender of his trunk but without success. There is no confirmation of the statement printed in Paris that Germany asked Norway to apologize for the breaking of the seals.

The recall of Germany's minister, Michalis, is attributed to Norway's insistent demand. He has been succeeded by Admiral Paul von Hintze, former minister to Mexico and China.

RESTORE BACK YARD WOOD PILE; GUARD AGAINST COAL SHORTAGE

Washington, June 27.—Restoration of the back yard wood pile as a precautionary measure against a possible coal shortage next winter is urged by the government forest service. Facilities will be furnished to those who desire to remove timber from national forests for use as fuel. Last year 250,000 cords of wood were permitted to be taken from the government preserves. A nation-wide use of wood as fuel, it is believed, would help save the transportation problem and relieve the increasing demand of industrial plants for coal.

WAGON YARDS MUST BE KEPT SANITARY

Yesterday afternoon the city council adopted an ordinance regulating construction and operation of wagon yards, in order that they may not become a detriment to adjacent property. The ordinance appears in full in this paper.

The council also ordered an election to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alderman Crook in the first ward, the election being set for July 31st, and to be held at the usual polling places.

It was reported that some cases of waste of water by private consumers had been noted, despite the publication of Mayor McCusick's notice to the public of the threatened shortage. A few days continuance of such waste will compel the council to adopt an ordinance forbidding the use of the water except for household purposes. It will be a pity if the good citizen who pays attention to admonition in such matters is made to suffer by the carelessness or wilfulness of a few individuals, but this is often the case.

The man who had invented the gun that will quickly stop the war presented a request that the council pay his expenses to Washington to lay his plans before the war department, but as the council has no right to spend public money for such purposes the request was denied.

Saturday night before the third Sunday in July, the protracted meeting will begin at Byrdtown Baptist church, with Rev. W. Wilson, the pastor, to do the preaching. All are invited to come and give attention, and be in service. All get right with God, and go after the lost. We ask all who believe in the one Mediator between God and man, to work and pray for success.—The Pastor.

Flies Wanted.

For the month of June the Civic League will pay $1.00 per gallon for dead flies if brought to either Mrs. Long, 21 South Church street, or Mrs. W. B. Connor, 175 North 13th street. Get busy and catch the early fly.

A WOMAN DRAWS A GUN ON CONSTABLE BELL

Constable Ed Bell had a little excitement yesterday when he went to a certain place to dispossess a family under a writ in a forcible detainer suit. The judgment of forcible detainer had been entered two or three weeks ago and the head of the family told the constable that if he would give him a certain length of time he would get out and not put him to the trouble of having to force him out. The request was granted and at the expiration of the time the man wanted another extension, which the officer declined to grant.

Yesterday when Constable Bell went to the house to dispossess them he found that the head of the family and his grown son had gone away from the house, leaving him to have it out with the women folks. The constable carried W. A. Dodd and Mr. Maddox, job wagon men, to the house to haul off the effects and when Mr. Dodd went to pick up a trunk the woman seized a .38 caliber winchester rifle and cocked it in his face and made him drop it.

When the job wagon men retreated Constable Bell entered the house and the woman cocked and leveled the rifle at him and ordered him not to touch a thing. The woman's grown daughter ran up to shove more cartridges in the magazine, to be sure that she was well supplied, and when she went to put the cartridges in the mother turned the muzzle up. The constable suddenly seizing the opportunity sprang forward and grabbed the gun by the barrel, and while he was trying to hold the hammer and the plunger she snapped it, but his hold on it prevented it from being discharged.

Although he had the temporary advantage the officer couldn't cope with the two women by himself and he had to call on Mr. Dodd for help. The latter and another man came to his rescue, and he had to telephone for his deputy Odus Parks, to come and help him corral them. No complaints were lodged against the women and they were not arrested, but the household effects were loaded in wagons and were hauled to a vacant lot and dumped. The family hauled them away late in the evening.

WILL LET CHILDREN HELP SUPPORT THE FAMILY

The new child labor law, which was enacted by the last legislature and which has just gone into effect is causing considerable trouble and inconvenience in Paris, as well as elsewhere, and in some instances works a hardship, although the principle involved and the spirit of the law are good. The law prohibits the employment of children under any circumstances up to twelve years old and provides that between twelve and fifteen they may be employed under a permit from the county judge, provided that the child is placed in safe employment and is not put to work around machinery or in any position where he is liable to get hurt.

It being optional, as stated, with the county judge to issue permits to work between the ages of twelve and fifteen. Judge Beauchamp stated yesterday that he would follow the policy of granting permits under present conditions, the high cost of living making it hard for day laborers to gain a livelihood unless other members of the family contribute something to the support. There are widows in Paris dependent on the earnings of their children, and if the children are prohibited from working they will have to depend partly at least on charity. There are a few orphan boys in Paris who are making their own living, and if they should be prohibited from work they would have to be a charge on somebody.

Judge Beauchamp says that in dealing with boy offenders under the juvenile act his experience has been that those who have committed the worst offenses are boys who have been allowed to live in idleness and to spend their vacation without work. A boy should be given tasks, he says and be required to do some work in order to keep him from evil association and evil influences.

If you cannot eat heartily without an attack of indigestion, your stomach is weak. You need Prickly Ash Bitters. It is a fine digestive tonic. Besides, it rids the stomach and bowels of impurities which make you feel bad. R. J. Murphy, special agent.

PARIS NEGRO CONVICTED IN THE FEDERAL COURT

The horse that was hired from Belew's stable several days ago by a negro who went by the name of Thos. Carter and other names, and which was left on the roadside near Hinckley after having been driven nearly to death, was brought in Monday and died Tuesday. The negro had hired the horse to make a trip to the river and was to have been back the same day, but after getting to Arthur, where he is supposed to have received a consignment of whisky through express, he drove across to Oklahoma. While passing a field near Hugo where a constable was at work the latter saw whisky in his hack and tried to arrest him, but he was unarmed. The negro, on the other hand, was "heeled" and stood off the officer, who went to Hugo and got help to arrest him.

In the meantime the negro drove the team nearly to death in getting out of the way, and when he crossed the river and reached Hinckley one of them gave out. The Hugo constable later caught the negro, who, it developed, was under bond at McAlester for selling liquor to Indians. He was taken there and has been convicted.

PROBABLE FATAL INJURY RECEIVED BY LITTLE BOY

Charles Lee Farmer, the eight-year-old son of Mrs. Walter Stewart of Dallas, who was here on a visit to his aunt, Mrs. Vertron Atkins, was run over by a wagon on Grand avenue about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning and received injuries believed to be fatal. The wagon belonged to the Lyon-Gray Lumber Company and was loaded with three thousand pounds of cement and was being driven by Jim Moss, a former city employee. The little boy was on a bicycle when the accident occurred. He had spent the night with a little girl, Imogene Trout, on North Seventeenth street, and was returning to the home of C. W. Estes on West Kaufman street, where Mr. and Mrs. Atkins, whom he was visiting, have rooms.

The little boy was going west and met the wagon going east nearly in front of the Steger Lumber Company's office. Mr. Moss, the driver, said that he couldn't tell just how the accident occurred, but it is not believed that any blame attached to him. He said he noticed the little boy approaching, just as he took his hat off to wipe the perspiration from his forehead, and when he went to replace it on his head he discovered the little boy was under the wagon, with which he had collided and had been knocked from his bicycle. Before he could stop the hind wheel ran diagonally across the child, from the right nipple to the left ear.

He was instantly paralyzed and couldn't move and, was picked up by George Turner, manager of the Steger Lumber Company, and was taken in a house, where he received first aid and was then taken to St. Joseph's Infirmary. It was stated last night that there was very little hope for his recovery. Efforts to locate his mother and notify her of the accident were unsuccessful until it was too late for her to catch a train, and it was understood that she would come through in an automobile.

Charley Farmer, the father of the little boy, was for several years in the employ of the Texas Midland, running out of Paris as a brakeman. He was killed about a year ago at Tulsa, Ok.

COLLEGE PROFESSORS PREVENT THEFT OF GOVERNMENT SECRETS

Berkeley, Cal., June 27.—Prompt action by two university professors prevented the theft today of government secrets by an unknown man who had succeeded in effecting an entrance into the chemistry building of the University of California.

Shortly after daybreak two of the professors went to the laboratory and as they approached the building saw a man slipping from a window of the office of Prof. Joel H. Hildebrand. Under his arm was a roll of papers. The instructors grappled with the man who was young and vigorous. He finally threw off his would-be captors and escaped.

In the struggle he dropped his loot which was found to be a roll of blue prints containing plans for chemical apparatus used in carrying out certain important experiments for the war department.

That he failed to provide food and clothing for her and their said children. That such cruel treatment continued until the last mentioned date, at which time aforesaid he abandoned this plaintiff, and left Lamar county, Texas, with another woman and declared his intention to never live with her again. An ordinance regulating the construction, maintenance and operation of wagon yards within the limits of the City of Paris and declaring the construction, operation and maintenance of same contrary to the provisions of this ordinance a nuisance and authorizing the summary abatement of same, prescribing penalties for violation and declaring an emergency.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Paris:

Section 1.—It shall be unlawful to construct, operate or maintain any wagon yard within the limits of the City of Paris with any fence, shed, wall or other projection of which will approach nearer to the sidewalk or curb line of the street than the building line established by the City Engineer for business houses or residences in the block or blocks where such wagon yard is to be constructed, maintained or operated. No fence, shed or other outside wall of any wagon yard constructed of wood shall be of a greater height than six feet.

Section 2.—It shall be unlawful to construct, maintain or operate any wagon yard within the limits of the City of Paris in such manner as to utilize or use the space between the building line established for the fence or outer wall enclosing the same, to park, or store vehicles, or hitch horses or animals thereon or for any other purpose out of harmony with the reasons which prompt the establishment of building lines and as a straight driveway giving direct ingress and egress to said wagon yard.

Section 3.—All wagons, animals and vehicles of any kind accommodated by said wagon yard must be stored and kept within the enclosure. Ample facilities for the feeding, keeping and watering of animals must be provided and watering troughs or apparatus used to water stock must be kept sanitary and clean and disinfected daily and not permitted to overflow and cause pools or puddles.

The entire premises, stalls, out houses, urinals and closets must be cleaned daily and kept in a clean and sanitary condition. All manure, droppings must be removed from the premises daily. Traps for the catching and destroying flies must be kept on premises during the spring and summer. The stalls must be clean.

Section 4.—Houses kept in which to lodge persons patronizing the wagon yard must be well ventilated by windows or other adequate openings screened in and all rooms kept in a clean and sanitary condition. The beds and bed clothing used for lodgers must be kept clean and sanitary and bed linen changed each day.

Section 5.—All wagon yards must be connected with the sewer system of the city and ample toilets, urinals and other equipment provided and kept in clean and sanitary condition. Separate toilets must be provided for men and women and kept well lighted at night. It shall be the duty of the Sanitary Inspector to inspect all wagon yards and enforce provisions of this ordinance and determine as to number and character of equipment required.

Section 6.—The yard and premises of said wagon yard and the street in front of and adjacent to same shall be sprinkled when possible in such manner as to minimize the dust caused by the use of same by patrons of said wagon yard. No part of any street on which said wagon yard fronts or adjoins shall be used for purpose of leaving vehicles or teams or so as to obstruct same or any portion thereof.

Section 7.—The failure to construct, operate or maintain any wagon yard in the City of Paris in compliance with all of the provisions of this ordinance is hereby declared to be a nuisance and the Mayor is hereby authorized whenever it is reported to the Mayor by the Sanitary Inspector that any wagon yard is operated or attempted to be operated in City of Paris contrary to provisions of this ordinance to at once abate same by forbidding the use thereof and shall forthwith close and keep closed until the provisions of the ordinance are complied with.

Section 8.—Any person owning any wagon yard, or the proprietor, manager or lessee, or any person owning any land upon which a wagon yard is to be built or constructed or is now being operated or maintained or any other person, firm or corporation who shall own, construct or maintain any wagon

OUR RED CROSS IS NOT AIDING ENEMY NATIONS NOWADAYS

Patriotic Americans who have been helping the Red Cross have of late been making anxious inquiries as to whether the humanity and the neutrality of the Red Cross would constrain it to send food, medicines and hospital units to Germany.

"I want to give to help our boys, and the stricken people of France and Belgium and Serbia," many a one has written in; "but I don't feel like doing anything if the Germans get part of it."

Americans need be under no apprehension. Not a cent of Red Cross contributions is going to Germany, or has gone there since the war was declared by the United States. General Pershing has gone to Europe to convey to the Kaiser Uncle Sam's compliments in the form of shells and American bayonets, but the Red Cross has no part in that except to care for such of General Pershing's men as may need care.

The matter of sending Red Cross supplies to Germany was brought up in the recent Red Cross war council in Washington. Charles D. Norton, one of the members, answered inquiries thus:

"The answer is exceedingly simple. We do not purpose to be tried for treason. We do not purpose to lend aid and comfort to our enemies. We mean to attend our own American Red Cross affairs."

Former President Taft, who is chairman of the executive committee, supported this view. He said that when wounded Germans fell into the hands of the American Red Cross they will get the same treatment as our own men; but that it would undoubtedly be treason to send supplies to Germany as we did before we were forced into the war.

So Americans can give freely, knowing that every cent is for our own and our allies' wounded, and not for the enemy.

Red Cross Trench Work.

Red Cross surgeons and orderlies give first aid to the wounded in little underground dressing stations in the front line trenches. In these dark, wet places, cold and ill-ventilated, it is sometimes necessary to perform major operations—such as an amputation, for instance. War records in France show that as many Red Cross workers as infantrymen are killed by enemy fire in the trenches. Red Cross field service requires courage of the highest order. Soldiers have the stimulation of fighting and giving the enemy shot for shot and blow for blow. The others don't.

LOCAL BOARDS TO PASS ON EXEMPTIONS

Washington, June 27.—Rigid adherence to the policy laid down for the national army selective draft law of placing the question of exemptions to local boards is expected to characterize the exemption regulations to be published in a few days.

The regulations will set out only the general policies of the boards. It is believed that no special classes will be exempted and each man will be specifically appraised on his individual occupation and physical capability.

No man unfit physically to serve will be called on. Married men will not be exempted as a class. In each case the dependency of wife, child or other relative is to be shown if the man is rejected as a soldier.

yard in the City of Paris who shall refuse to comply with any of the provisions contained in this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction of the same in the corporation court shall be fined in any sum not less than Five Dollars or more than Two Hundred Dollars and each day's violation shall be deemed a separate offense and punishable as such.

Section 9.—That this ordinance be in full effect five days after its passage. The fact that it is absolutely necessary in order to protect the health and lives of the inhabitants of the city and prevent spread of disease that the wagon yard business be conducted in a clean and sanitary manner and that there is at present no ordinance regulating said business creates a public emergency requiring that the rules and charter provisions prohibiting the passage of an ordinance at meeting introduced and that same be referred to a committee be suspended and the same is accordingly done and this ordinance will be in full force and effect five days from the date of its passage.

Adopted June 27, 1917.

QUALITY EFFICIENCY SERVICE

SENDING EXPEDITION
PROVED AMERICA
STILL RESOURCEFUL

Washington, June 27.—The advance guard of the mighty army United States is sending against the Germans in on French soil tonight. In defiance of Germany's thousands of seasoned regulars and marines, tried fighting men with the tan of long service on the Mexican border or in Haiti or San Domingo still on their faces, hastened over the seas to fight besides the French, the British, the Belgians, the Russians, the Portuguese and the Italians on the western front.

News of the safe arrival of the troops sent a new thrill through Washington. No formal announcement was made by the War department; none will be made till General Pershing's official report is received. Then there may be a statement as to the numbers and composition of the advance guard.

Press dispatches from France say that Major General Sibert, one of the new major generals of the army, has been given command of the first force sent abroad under General Pershing as commander-in-chief of the expedition.

Set a New Record

One fact stands out sharply despite the fact that the size of the task United States has undertaken is not yet fully revealed—that American enterprise has set a new record for transportation of troops.

Considering the distance to be covered and the fact that all preparations had to be made after the order from the White House of May 18, it is practically certain that never before has a military expedition of this size been assembled, conveyed and landed without a mishap in so short a time by any nation. It may be taken as a good augury for future activities.

The American forces are a net gain to the Allies and will throw no single burden of support or equipment on them. These troops will be fed, clothed and equipped by United States. At their camp on French soil tonight are stored supplies to keep them going for months and more will follow.

General Pershing and his staff have been busy for days preparing for the arrival of the men.

Everything Unprepared

When the order came to prepare immediately an expeditionary force to France practically all the men now across the sea were on the Mexican border and Pershing himself was at his headquarters in San Antonio. No army transports were available in the Atlantic; vessels that could carry troops were scattered on their various routes. The army's reserve stores were still depleted from the border campaign.

General Pershing was summoned quietly to Washington. His arrival there created some speculation in the press but at the request of Secretary Baker the newspapers generally refrained from discussing it. Thousands of other activities were on foot in the department at the time which attracted more attention.

Work Done Quietly

General Pershing dropped quietly into the department and set up the first headquarters of the American expeditionary forces in a little office hardly big enough for himself and his staff. There, with the aid of the general staff, Secretary Baker and the chiefs of the War department's bureaus, the details were worked out.

Announcement of the sending of the force under General Pershing was made on May 18. The press gave the news to the country and there were many stories following it. Came a day when General Pershing was gone out of the department. Officers of the general staff were missed from their desks, but no word of this was reported. There was waiting for word from Pershing and his staff after arrival.

Greater shipments of war materials began to assemble at the embarking ports. A great armada was assembled. Transports were loaded with men and guns and sent to sea and all with no mention from the press.

The Navy Did Its Part

The navy bore its full share of the task. As they left the docks and headed for the open sea bearing the men of the fighting force a convoy of fighting ships moved beside them and swept free the sea lanes before them. They pushed on, day and night, through the barred zones where German subs awaited them, landing safely as scheduled. The promptness with which the men got to France shows that the plans were well laid and executed.

SIX SUFFRAGISTS
SANG AND TALKED
IN CAPITAL JAIL

Washington, June 27.—Behind jail bars tonight, six suffragists, sentenced from the police court for obstructing the sidewalk and displaying propaganda banners before the White House had a song service and suffrage meeting for the other forty women inmates.

The suffragists were given their choice of paying $25 fines or three days in jail and decided to accept the latter. They made no attempt at a hunger strike and will be released Friday morning, part of today and a few hours Friday making the legal term of three days.

At a little organ in the carept corridor of the jail sat Mrs. Mabel Vernen of Reno Nev., playing "God Be With Us Till We Meet Again," while about her stood a little group of suffragists—Katherine Morey of Boston; Virginia Arnold of Asheville, N. C.; Lavinia Docks of Philadelphia; Maud Jamieson of Norfolk, Va.; Annie Arneil of Wilmington, Del.

Huddled on a stairway beyond a barred partition about thirty negro women and a few white women joined in the refrain of the song. Permission to address their fellow prisoners was given by the matron of the jail.

When the Skin Seems Ablaze With Itching and Burning

There's just one thing to do.
If your skin seems ablaze with the fiery burning and itching of Eczema, real and lasting relief can only come from treatment that goes below the surface—that reaches down to the very source of the trouble. So-called skin-diseases come from a disordered condition of the blood, and the proper treatment is through the blood.

Search far and near, and you cannot find a blood remedy that approaches S. S. S. for real efficiency. It has been on the market for fifty years, during which time it has been giving uniform satisfaction for all manner of blood disorders. If you want prompt and lasting relief, you can rely upon S. S. S. For expert advice as to the treatment of your own individual case, write to-day to Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. C Atlanta, Ga.

A STRANGE EVANGELIST

Before his arrival in Paris it had been rumored that Dr. Violet was a strange evangelist, and many wondered what manner of man he might be in order to win such a title for himself. It is now being discovered that he is strange only in that he is an exception. It is the simplicity, positiveness and scripturalness of his preaching that distinguishes him from the average evangelist of today. That his style of preaching and method of conducting a revival is appreciated is evidenced in the increased attendance at each service. The church felt that ample provision had been made to seat all who would likely attend the services before the meeting began, but the attendance last night, the third service of the series, made it evident that the tabernacle will again have to be enlarged to accommodate the crowds.

In keeping with his method of conducting a revival Dr. Violet insists on congregational singing, and the old hymns for the most part are sung; hymns that breathe the spirit of the gospel and have stood the test of the ages. Another unusual thing about the meeting is the daily bible reading on the part of the people. Perhaps never before were the people of Paris so generally interested in the reading of the old book.

Dr. Violet preached last night on the subject: "If Christ Should Come to Paris." The sermon was based on Luke 23rd chapter. The topic for tonight is "The End of the War and the End of the World," and the scripture lesson is 25th chapter of Matt. Dr. Violet has visited the battle front in every country now engaged in the great war, and his sermon will doubtless be thrilling and informing.
